CHAPTER 1

Principles of Rhetorical Analysis

1.1 Logos, Ethos, and Pathos in Contemporary Academic Discourse

Rhetoric is the faculty of observing in any given case the available means of persuasion. Academic writing relies primarily on logos (rational deduction and empirical evidence) supported by ethos (scholarly credibility and meticulous citation ethics). We dissect argumentative fallacies, thesis defense, and structural coherence.

Key Conceptual Takeaways:

- A robust academic thesis must be defensible, non-obvious, and evidence-supported.
- Peer review ethics require transparent acknowledgment of counter-arguments.
